1. COMPASSION WITH THE WAVE – A Guide to Beaching

BEACHING: The making of the beach –rubbish rubbing against rubbish, against stone, crushing shells against shells, grinding plastic pieces. Flesh on flesh, rubbing, pieces of plastic, plastic, rubbish rubbing against rubbish, against flesh.

Oozing, melting, burning, burning, burning, burning, burning, burning, burning...

A piece of yellowish-green seaweed, possibly a type of kelp, is laid out on a plain white surface. The seaweed has a complex, irregular shape with several folds and a prominent hole in the center. The color is a mix of pale yellow and olive green, with some darker, brownish spots. The text "FACE THE GODDESS" is overlaid in large, white, bold, sans-serif capital letters. The word "FACE" is positioned on the left side, "THE" is in the middle, and "GODDESS" is on the right side, all aligned vertically.
